DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's responses along with Declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed on 10/03/2006 and 11/01/2006 have been fully considered. Claims 1 and 4-6 are amended and claims 1-6 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Galleguillos et al. (US 6,361,768 B1).
3. Galleguillos discloses an ampholytic copolymer having at least one anionic functional group and at least one cationic functional group (col. 4, line 36). The copolymer has a glass transition temperature of above 50 degree C, and is in a form of a fine powder with submicron particle size (abstract). Submicron particle size is a particle size of less than 1 um, which includes the claimed particle size. The copolymer can be used for paper coating (col. 19, line 2).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's argument is based on that the prior art discloses applying an aqueous composition of the copolymer to a paper; the resulting coating would not contain polymeric organic particles. Rather, the prior art discloses that the copolymer would be dissolved, and therefore such coating would not include polymeric organic material in the form of particles, as presently claimed. This argument is not persuasive for the following reason. Even though the prior art teaches that the copolymer dissolves readily in water, the prior art does not expressly disclose that the copolymer dissolves completely. The copolymer may partially dissolve and may comprise reduced particle diameter.

5. Applicant has submitted a declaration to show that the claimed particle diameter of the range from 1 to 500 nm provides ink jet recording medium, which is more excellent in color density. However, it is impossible to determine that excellent color density has been obtained by using the claimed particle diameter because the value of excellent or acceptable color density has never been defined either in the specification or in the declaration.

6. For the above reasons claims 1-6 stand rejected.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

8. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
